A Papal Shout-Out!

by Patti Mansfield

“The Pope is talking about Mom!” my daughter exclaimed to my husband as they sat in Rome’s Olympic Stadium in the midst 52,000 people at an international conference of the Catholic Charismatic Renewal on June 1. She had a headset for translation from Italian into English which was working. My husband and I did not. At that moment we were not seated together because I was a speaker at the event, and those on the program were placed in the front row in order to greet the Pope.

As Pope Francis began his address I thought I heard my name, but I could scarcely believe my ears. I turned to the Argentinian woman next to me who understood Italian and asked her, “Did the Pope just mention my name?” She excitedly confirmed, “Yes!” Not until I returned home a week later did I see the full translation of his text in which he said, “I am grateful also for the presence of the first who had an intense experience of the power of the Holy Spirit; I believe that it was Patti who is here...”

Quite beyond the personal joy of hearing my name on the lips of Pope Francis, was the joy of discovering that he knows the Charismatic Renewal “from the inside.” He knows our history (the Renewal began at a retreat in 1967 at which I was present). He knows our mission (to bring the grace of a personal Pentecost to the whole Church.) He told us he felt “at home” as he joined us in singing his favorite Charismatic Renewal song, “Vive Jesus el Senor” with his hands lifted in a charismatic gesture of prayer. And, so characteristic of this humble man, he knelt while the assembly prayed for a new outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon him, in song, in Italian, and then in the gift of tongues. It was a truly moving and inspiring experience!

In the Pope’s address, he affirmed the Renewal in unequivocal terms, “You were born of the will of the Spirit as ‘a current of grace’ in the Church and for the Church....I expect from you that you share with all, in the Church, the grace of Baptism in the Holy Spirit (expression that is read in the Acts of the Apostles).” Hearing this I was emboldened to give him my letter (which you will see under my arm in the photo).

When he stood in front of me and took my hand I said, “I’m Patti” and he replied, “Oh, one of the first,” and he pulled me to his chest to embrace me. Then I said, “Holy Father,” and he leaned closer to hear me. “I have an idea to bring this grace of baptism in the Spirit to the whole Church”. I’m not sure he understood my English and he replied to me in Italian, which I didn’t understand. But I handed my letter to the Archbishop behind him who handed it to a security guard. Perhaps Pope Francis will read it one day.

In the letter I explain that the grace of baptism in the Spirit was released in the lives of millions of Catholics when a college student on retreat with me in 1967 suggested that we “renew our sacrament of Confirmation.”

I am asking Pope Francis to call the whole Church, every Pentecost, to “renew our sacrament of Confirmation,” in much the same way we renew our baptismal promises every Easter. We need a New Pentecost for a New Evangelization!

The Holy Father surprised us all by inviting the entire Catholic Charismatic Renewal (which encompasses 120 million people worldwide) to celebrate our 50 Year Jubilee with him in Rome on Pentecost, 2017! What a celebration it will be!

Patti Mansfield was a participant in the February, 1967 “Duquesne Weekend” which marked the beginning of the Charismatic Renewal in the Catholic Church. She has authored several books and has several teaching CDs. Patti is married to Al Mansfield, Coordinator of the Catholic Charismatic Renewal of New Orleans, LA and they have four children and five grandchildren. Counting Your Uncounted Blessings

by John H. Hampsch, CMF

In a Thanksgiving week quiz, a teacher asked her fourth grade pupils to state at least one thing they were thankful to God for. One perspicacious lad professed that he was thankful that God put his nose in the middle of his face and his ears on both sides of his head. The flummoxed teacher asked why on earth he would be thankful for that. The youngster replied, "Because if my nose and ears weren't in those places, my glasses would fall off my face!"

That child found one of countless unacknowledged gifts of God. And that teacher's experiment would be a good spiritual exercise for any of us. To thank God, for instance, for the gift of water, you would find water-related "spin-off" gifts that you may have taken for granted, such as fishing or fish as food, soup, surfing, boating, bathing, shaving, showering, swimming, coffee-brewing, toilet-flushing, fire-extinguishing, car-washing or cruise ship vacationing.

Imagine a dish of sand with tiny particles of iron mixed with it. With clumsy fingers you might search for those iron particles with very little success. But if you were to sweep a magnet through the sand, it would draw to itself even the tiniest particles of iron. The unthankful heart, like a finger in the sand, discovers comparatively few of God's blessings in life. But a truly thankful heart will sweep like a magnet through life's circumstances and events—not just three times a day as Daniel did, even in the face of death (6:10), but frequently, in even the smallest events of life, delightful or hurtful.

The grateful heart will embrace God's will with thanks, "no matter what happens" (1 Thess. 5:18), whether in the surprise of finding a parking space in a crowded parking lot, or in hardships like the inconvenience of a traffic jam, whether it be a miraculous healing or confinement in a bed of pain. As the magnet finds the iron, so will the thankful heart "give thanks to God the Father at all times and in everything in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ" (Eph. 5:20).

We are not asked to be thankful for everything, such as the death of a loved one, or the infidelity of your spouse, or the murder of your neighbor. We should be thankful in such negative situations, by harboring a faith-conviction that God's providence will work in and through those situations ultimately for our spiritual advantage, as in St. Paul's "unanswered" prayer for healing (2 Cor. 12:9). In every truly godly soul, the magnet of thankfulness will increasingly find countless blessings that inspire "gratitude to God in the heart" (Col. 3:16); these are, in heaven's view, not specks of iron but nuggets of gold.

Of course, in all his dispensations God is at work for our good. "My Father is always at his work to this very day" (John 5:17), but in some activities he is more hidden in the "sand" of life. For instance, he works in our prosperity by testing our gratitude; in our mediocrity, he "calls us to a holy life" (2 Tim. 1:9) and supports our efforts to improve: "God, works in you to will and to act according to his good purpose" (Phil. 2:13); and when we attain holiness, he "surrounds us with his blessings and favors" (Ps. 5:12); in misfortune, he seeks our submission; in temptation, our steadfastness; in the shadow of death, he comforts us (Ps. 23:4), as he does in every hurtful circumstance: "The Father of compassion...comforts us in all our troubles" (2 Cor. 1: 3-4).

Thus, in every event of life, the Lord is testing our reliance on him and waiting for our grateful acknowledgement of his powerful grace working quietly in our lives. Our filial trust in God finds its most sublime expression in one of the seven gifts of the Spirit, (called Piety (in the Septuagint version of Is. 11: 2). In a truly "pious" soul this gift is gilded with gratitude to our Heavenly Father; hidden blessings grow more obvious, and gratitude becomes truly passionate.

Every "pious" soul is a powerful magnet sweeping through life's sands, "capturing" God's presence and reaffirming it with the deepest attitude of gratitude—a wordless prayer that captivates the heart of God. Jesus healed ten lepers, but only one returned to praise and thank him, even prostrating himself at Jesus' feet (Luke 17:15-16). By his humble gratitude, his experience of Jesus' love was far more appreciated than it was among the other nine lepers. Most of us are like the other nine lepers; we do far more asking than thanking, and our pleas are more fervent than our thanks. The result? A disturbing "static" in our prayer life. God's love for us continues, but our benefit from it is diminished.

An act of gratitude to God, like any act of love of God, is easy to make, whether in a crowd of people or alone in bed. It can be done silently while waiting for a stoplight, an elevator, a bus or for restaurant service. Abundant occasions can be found during TV commercials. Some find it easy to experience grateful love while gazing on a devotional picture of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, or while viewing a colorful sunset, or while fondling a child or pet with loving gratitude, or even while luxuriating in a warm shower with loving thankfulness to a God who provides such amenities. A truly noble soul will find it easy to thank and praise God in suffering and adversities. At this very moment our Blessed Lord is waiting and yearning for a tiny burst of grateful love from you!

I have tried, in a kind of poetic way, to express my own faltering gratitude for life's hidden gifts. With the following little rhyme. I invite you to join with me prayerfully in a search for hidden nuggets of God's love in the sands of life.

Bounty from Heaven

Though we cannot touch them
with our hand,
God's gifts are there at our command.
And day by day his favor grows;
His gracious bounty overflows.
With grace and care that never ends,
Through lavish love of loving friends
The warmth and glow of Jesus' light Shines clear to make our pathway bright.
Lord, grant that I may always see
The gifts that you bestow on me
As graces from your bounty, Lord—
A blest yet undeserved award.
Accept my humble gratitude
For treasured friends
and love renewed.
And yes, dear God,
I too impart
A gift to You
—my grateful heart!

Fr. Joshua Lee's search for Christ has carried him through many disciplines. Born in England during WWII, he came to the U.S. as a child. After graduating from Loyola High, began in Pre-Med and switched to Nursing which he practiced for 17 years. In a continued search, he obtained a Master's Degree in Theater with an emphasis on Directing. Continuing his search, Fr. Joshua entered St. Andrew Abbey where he served as a Benedictine Monk. Responding to the call to healing ministry, Fr. Joshua now lives and serves as Pastor of St. Hilary Church of Perpetual Adoration in Pico Rivera. This past June, Fr. Joshua celebrated 25 years in priestly ministry! We invite you to come join us and hear all the unique experiences this special priest has encountered on his journey with God.
